

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASEMagic Genie Helps People Find the Magic of Faith

New York, NY (PRWEB) - February 7, 2005 - Sometimes it takes a little fantasy to believe in what we cannot see or understand. In "The Magic of Faith," Glorious the Magic Genie shows people how to use their imagination to find faith and learn to cope with the troubled times we live in.

Glorious is a nonsectarian Faith Builder whose purpose in life is to deliver an inspiring message to those who need more faith. In "The Magic of Faith," he shows readers how to acknowledge their true feelings and find comfort through the use of 99 Magical Keys.

The public is invited to participate in the release of this magical, how-to-find-your-faith book by posting expressions of faith on www.fait123.com. Some of these submissions may be published in an upcoming second edition of the book. Readers can become active participants and perhaps even published authors by visiting the Web site and reading "The Magic of Faith."

When visitors access the site, they can read excerpts from "The Magic of Faith" and receive a free downloadable faith-based magic pill and faith-building manual to share with their family, friends, and loved ones. As readers learn to express their faith in God, and declare themselves people of faith, they will become the real magic.

"The Magic of Faith" uses a Magic Genie to help people find their faith. Glorious, the Magic Genie shows people how to make their lives less stressful and how to feel more secure. By reading the book, and learning how to express their faith, they can declare themselves people of faith on the Web site www.fait123.com. They can discover that they are good and worthwhile people who are entitled to have faith. Glorious shows readers how to do this using 99 Magical Keys and by offering them a free faith-building manual and faith-based Magic Pill on the Web site.
